

The Amara Legal Center envisions a society where our clients are free from stigma, violence, oppression, exploitation, and criminalization.

Amara is Rebranding & We Need Your Help!

The Amara Legal Center is excited to develop a strategy for implementing a new look and feel for the organization. Our first step will be to redesign Amara's corporate image (logo) and then the Amara website!

How does the Amara logo make you feel? If Amara was a color, what color would it be and why?

These are the types of questions we are asking, and we want input from our community.

So we are asking you to please complete a short survey to share your thoughts to help us in this effort! In addition, we will be holding a Branding Focus Group meeting in April for 10 participants. If you are interested, please indicate that in the survey below.

As always, thank you for your support!

Amara Welcomes New Graphic Designer

We are excited to welcome Justin Bost as our new contract, part-time Graphic Designer. Justin will lead Amara's rebranding efforts and visual design projects.

Justin is a visual storyteller that provides creative and high quality designs for an array of private, government and nonprofit organizations. Dynamic and creative with a witty character, Justin describes himself as a 'Design Unicorn'.

From concept to completion, Justin takes a clean, modern approach to his designs, favoring functionality and bold imagery. His portfolio showcases a range of print and multimedia projects, including logos, brochures, publications, training curricula, information graphics, web-based communications, and more.

Working at the Amara Legal Center is an incredible accomplishment and milestone to the professional authenticity of Justin's work. His steadfast commitment to capturing the pure value of his client's messaging is evident through human targeted design approaches.

"I am a community investor, who lives unapologetically as a contracted graphic designer, fighting for human rights and equality for all; what an honor it is to sprinkle 'a little bold glitter' into the shades of gray marketing and communications we utilize today."
