In the month of May, Amara is celebrating mothers and their lived experiences. Join us on May 31, from 12pm-1pm, for our May Speaker Series: "Empowering Mothers By Addressing Systems & Gaps in Services."

From navigating the family law courts and dealing with the child welfare system, to vulnerability factors and institutional racism, many Black women and girls face insurmountable odds, especially if they have been trafficked. Our panelists will share their insights and discuss what they see in their work and the different solutions to support the complex needs of mothers.

Join the conversation with Alana Brown, Tina Frundt, and Melody Webb!

Mothers Rock! 100%! Campaign

Make sure you watch the video from our amazing Ambassador Julia Hubbard. She knows first-hand the challenges many mothers face who have been trafficked. She is a survivor and a warrior!

As part of our "Circle of Hope" campaign, Amara is honoring the many courageous mothers we work with at the Amara Legal Center in providing them with free, trauma-informed legal representation. They come to us seeking protective orders against their traffickers, divorce from their abusers, custody of their children, support on their journeys towards healing, and more. They need your help!

This month, we are asking 100 people to donate $100 each by the end of May. Your contributions will help us empower our clients, seek justice on their behalf, and connect them to organizations for a new beginning. Together, we can change lives!

Join the Amara Board of Directors

"I abhor exploitation and inequity. As a member of the Amara Board of Directors, I have been able to be a part of an organization and a top-notch team that are not only ameliorating the effects of exploitation and inequity on individuals locally and across our society, but also actively challenging the systems that promote and protect these practices. It has been a pleasure to play a role in shaping and strengthening Amara to provide a platform for our committed staff to bring real relief to real people while also effecting positive change in our community. - Cynthia Fox, Board Vice President

Amara seeks candidates who are passionate about our work to provide free, trauma-informed legal services and support to survivors of sex trafficking and others harmed by the commercial sex industry.

Desired skills include nonprofit board experience, fundraising, event planning, marketing, and knowledge of the commercial sex industry or a desire to learn.

The Board of Directors supports the work of the Amara Legal Center and provides mission-based leadership and strategic governance.

The ideal candidates will have the following qualifications:

- Extensive professional experience with significant executive leadership accomplishments in business, government, philanthropy, or the nonprofit sector
- An interest in social justice issues, racial equity and criminal justice reform
- A commitment to and understanding of Amara's clients and human trafficking issues
- Savvy diplomatic skills and a natural affinity for cultivating relationships and persuading, convening, facilitating, and building consensus among diverse individuals
- Personal qualities of integrity, credibility, and a passion for improving the lives of Amara's clients
- Fundraising experience and a commitment to engage donors, corporations, and funders to increase revenue
- Individuals representing marginalized populations are encouraged to apply, i.e. Women, BIPOC, and LGBTQIA+
